Dear Sir,

I have a pair of gold bracelets, 14 carats fine, weighing 109 8 dwt.
thereby containing 472 grains. I am very anxious to communicate them into gold, and have been informed that you
will do this for me.
How will you be kind
enough to write me
first how much money
I can realize from these bracelets, by sending them to you.

Of course they must be sent by Express
and I should like
full particulars —
I was informed that you would give as many gold dollars
as there were grams
in an article, but I think that must be a mistake. At all events, I await your pleasure, and am
until then, Yours
very truly,

Supt. of Mint,

Dear Sir,

I have a pair of gold bracelets, 14 carats fine, weighing 1 oz 8 dwt. thereby containing 672 grains. I am very anxious to convert them into gold, and have been informed that you will do this for me, now will you be kind enough to write me just how much money can realize from these bracelets, by sending them to you. Of course they must be sent by Express and I should like full particulars – I was informed that you would give as many gold dollars as there were grains in an article, but I think that must be a mistake. At all events, I await your pleasure, and am until then,

Yours very truly,

Miss Sarah E. Steele,
